SITUATION SUMMARY

Air Quality

- Recent dry lightning strikes have caused many small fires in the Six Rivers and Shasta-Trinity National Forest as well as State Responsibility Areas.
- Current weather forecasts show the recent low pressure moving out of the area and replaced by a warming trend with drier weather and moderate to light winds over the area.
- The Saddle Fire, located in the Shasta-Trinity National Forest near the town of Hyampom, continues to produce smoke in nearby communities. At this time, smoke is laying in valleys but may lift and transport to further locations throughout the day. Satellite images show smoke traveled north toward Willow Creek and to the southeast past the Hyampom area.
- In Del Norte County, the Buckskin Fire located near Cave Junction, Oregon is producing smoke impacts in downwind areas southwesterly of the fire. Satellite imagery indicates that Smith River could be in the path of the smoke. Crescent City may also be experiencing smoke from the fire.
- Forecasting smoke impacts can be challenging as smoke can vary widely within just a few miles as Humboldt, Del Norte and Trinity Counties contain mountains, valleys, and a thousand different air flow patterns.
- Further Air Quality information will be provided to the public as updated information becomes available.
- For 24-hour Air Quality Information:

WEATHER

WEATHER SYNOPSIS BY REGION:

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA AND CENTRAL COASTAL AREAS:

Eureka Weather:

Low clouds and fog in coastal influenced areas will burn off quickly this morning. However, at the immediate coast, low clouds will be much more stubborn and may not burn off at all. This will be the pattern for much of the week as onshore flow has established itself.

Medford Weather:

The strong thermal trough associated with the offshore flow this past weekend has now moved onshore. The hot temperatures supported a few thunderstorms over Siskiyou county Sunday afternoon and evening and those have since dissipated. The thermal trough will move farther inland Monday.

Reno Weather:

A warm and mostly dry pattern will continue into the upcoming week. West flow aloft will keep afternoon breezes going each day with the strongest winds this and Thursday afternoons. A strong ridge may bring the first triple digit temperatures of the season to the area by Sunday or Monday of next week.

San Francisco Weather:

Dry weather is set to persist with near seasonal temperatures through much of the week. A slight warming trend is expected by late week and into the upcoming weekend as high pressure builds off of the West Coast.

CENTRAL CALIFORNIA AND SOUTHERN SAN JOAQUIN VALLEY:

Sacramento Weather:

Continued above average temperatures with dry conditions are expected through the week.

Hanford Weather:

High pressure will bring dry conditions and continued above normal temperatures through the week and into next weekend.

WEATHER

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA:

Los Angeles Weather:

Gradual warming trend is expected through the week as high pressure builds in from the southwest. Low clouds and fog will continue to affect the coastal plain this week as well. Well above normal temperatures are possible for inland areas by next weekend as a large ridge of high pressure may develop.

Extreme Southwestern California including Orange, San Diego, Western Riverside and Southwestern San Bernardino Counties:

High pressure aloft will slowly strengthen across southern California through next weekend bringing a slow inland warming trend and gradually decreasing marine layer depth with high temperatures 5 to 10 degrees above average.

Southeast California Weather:

Skies will be sunny with a continued warming trend. Strong high pressure will become situated over the desert southwest this week leading to seasonably hot conditions. Many lower deserts locations will see a prolonged period of temperatures above 110 degrees likely lasting through the upcoming weekend.
